VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA CELEBRATES 4TH ANNIVERSARY OF HELPING LOCAL HOMELESS VETERANS

Lexington, Ky.—Volunteers of America’s Homeless Veterans Treatment Transitional Program (HVTTP), an innovative licensed program providing residential treatment for up to 40 homeless male veterans struggling with addiction, will celebrate its fourth anniversary with a special program:

Wednesday, September 30 at 10:30 a.m.
Veterans Administration Medical Campus
2250 Leestown Road, Building 29, Floor 2
Lexington

Program speakers include Kentucky Department of Veteran’s Affairs Commissioner, Ken Lucas; Director of Lexington Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Sandy Nielsen; Volunteers of America of Kentucky President and CEO, Jane W. Burks; and a personal testimony from a program graduate.

An open house celebration will begin after the program and continue until 2 p.m.
Tours of the facility will be available during the open house.

Supporters, partners and individuals interested in learning more on how Volunteers of America serves local veterans in the Lexington community are invited to attend. RSVP to Farrah Ferriell at farrahf@voaky.org or 859-254-3469 ext. 223.

ABOUT VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA OF KENTUCKY

Founded in 1896, Volunteers of America of Kentucky creates positive change in the lives of individuals and communities through a ministry of service. Veterans who are homeless, incarcerated and/or chemically dependent receive case management services, transitional housing, residential drug and alcohol treatment and other services designed to eliminate barriers to employment and stable living.
